Stage Big Riot at Aldershot

By REINHOLD THOMPSON
ALDERSHOT, Hants, Eng. Feb. 25.—(AP)—Nearly 400 mutinous soldier-prisoners Saturday seized control of the Aldershot detention camp and rioted for 24 hours, smashing glass, setting furniture afire and wrecking the building. The riot ended late yesterday with surrender of the last of the 380 soldiers still holding out.

It was the first disturbance in 28 years at the detention camp where British soldiers are held on parole.

The disruptive prisoners were unarmed except for bricks and other missiles.

The overpowering of three guards while prisoners were being quartered for the night set off the riot. It did not end until 3 p.m. Sunday when Lt. Gen. Sir John Crocker, commander-in-chief of the British army's southern command, announced "the mutiny is at an end."

A SCORE OR MORE men still held out for a time on the barracks roof, pelting military policemen, firemen and even their fellow-prisoners, as they came out to surrender, with alates and other missiles.

Gen. Crocker tentatively bled the mutiny on a half-detention camp for two weeks ago in order to speed the return to the forces of men intending to make the RCAF a career.

Saturday's statement said that it had been necessary to reject some applications from veterans on parole because of their military category. Applications are being taken at command headquarters at Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto, and Halifax.

"ALL APPLICATIONS from serving or ex-RCAF ground force personnel now will receive the same preference they enjoyed before the former cut-off date of Feb. 1," explained an air force spokesman. "Those accepted will be re-enlisted with the temporary rank and grade grouping they held on V-J day. No guarantee can be given that they will maintain that rank permanently. If conditions require some personnel to revert to a lower rank, their rights under their V-J day status will be respected. If any veteran personnel will be given the same treatment, whether or not they applied prior to Feb. 1."

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Bill Miller, former Canadian army soldier from Wapella, Sask., dropped three red roses into the grave of his murdered 21-year-old English wife, Lillian, when she was buried in Canterbury cemetery Saturday. Mrs. Miller was found strangled on a footpath after a morning.

Mrs. Miller had carried red roses at her wedding on Oct. 19, 1942.

At the graveside, her sister, Mrs. Violet Kirk, who was crying hysterically, had to be restrained from throwing herself on the coffin.

In Recruiting

OTTAWA, Feb. 25.—(CP)—Air force headquarters Saturday announced a new policy by which both veterans and rookies will be permitted "so as to maintain a technically efficient and flexible group of ground trades in which young recruits will be trained continuously side by side with those with greater experience."

HEADQUARTERS ALSO announced that enlistment preference enjoyed by veterans has been extended indefinitely to encourage more skilled airman to join the permanent force. Deadline for the preference had been set at Feb. 1 in order to speed the return to the forces of men intending to make the RCAF a career.

Detroit Triumphs 4-3 Canadiens Tounce Toronto To Dim Leaf's Playoff Hopes

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 25. — (CP) — Breaking through for a four-goal surge in the third period, the pace-setting Montreal Canadiens turned back Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 before a capacity crowd of 13,581 fans here last night to put Leafs on the brink of elimination from the National Hockey League playoffs.

The Toronto loss, coinciding with Detroit's 4-3 victory over Boston last night, left Leafs with the slightest mathematical chance of overtaking Wings in fourth place.

Leafs staged a game contest in the first two periods to hold Canucks 2-2 but the Toronto defence went to sleep in the last frame, leaving Goalie Turk Broda without practice.

Creates Registry CRU Relaxes Restrictions Against Imports from U.S.

By ALAN HARVEY

TORONTO, Feb. 25. — (CP) — At a momentous meeting which covered all phases of football, the Canadian Rugby Union Saturday set the legislative stage for unbridled free competition by relaxing restrictions against United States imports and creating a central player registry which may become the foundation of a unified national code.

Previously, delegates attending the CRU's 38th annual meeting re-wrote playing rules to permit to allow interference by linemen for a one-year trial period. Previously, wingline interference was confined to five yards, although Western Canada unions long have favored the looser limit.

EXCEPT FOR ONE brief, last moment, when Ontario union secretary Harold Hall clashed with the interprovincial union's Dr. M. D. Kinella in a revival of last fall's controversy over backfield star Joe Kroll, the meeting moved harmoniously to remove the CRU from its habitual role of football figurehead with jurisdiction only over play rules.

After lengthy discussion, delegates approved a motion by president Eddie McLean of the OPU that the governing body's constitution be amended to provide authority over rule-making and player movements among affiliated unions. Details of the triplicate registry system, patterned after that used by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, will be drafted at a committee in April.

The CANADIAN PRESS learned the CRU will limit the number of players who may be signed by any team rather than set a deadline for signing. All players will be registered with the CRU, the branch union and club involved, with the parent body empowered to inflict penalties for violations.

Among those speaking in support of the motion was N. J. Taylor of Regina, new CRU president, who termed "window shopping" by players undesirable.

Joe Ryan, designated as western interprovincial representative although now located in Montreal, raised the issue of American imports for a clause in the CRU constitution which stipulates players must be a permanent resident of Canada one year to qualify for playoffs. After stressing the difficulties smaller centres may have in obtaining players, Ryan suggested the restriction be suspended for a two-year period.

IN THE WIDE RANGE of their discussions, the delegates probed thoroughly into methods of standardizing and equipment and stadium shortages and referred to next April an offer by Walter Small to establish a memorial trophy for junior football in honor of his son, Walter Douglas, lieutenant in the Black Watch who was killed in Germany. Little Small played in 1936 for Montreal Westminster, junior champions.

Possibility of a $100 grant for junior leagues was also deferred until April after suggestions that the unions involved match the CRU grant "dollar for dollar."

Taylor was elected president to succeed D. Stuart Forbes of Montreal, with Frank E. Leonard of Dundas, Ont., first vice-president, and K. J. Phillips of Saskatoon second vice-president and Tommy Louden of Toronto third vice-president. Percy Robinson, Toronto, succeeded Harry Hewitt, CRU secretary for 24 years.

It has been estimated that it takes $2 a year to take pupils to the elementary grades, and $15 a year in public high school.

WINGS TAKE FIRMER GRIP ON FOURTH PLACE

DETROIT, Feb. 25. — (AP) — Detroit Red Wings held off a late rally by Boston Bruins here last night before a frenzied crowd of 23,540 and scored a 4-3 victory which gave them a firmer grip on fourth place in the National Hockey League.

The Wings managed to pull into a 2-1 lead in the second period when Harry Watson caught a rebound off Boston goalie Turk Broda's stick, and were never held thereafter.

In the game's final moments the Detroiters were comfortably out in front, 4-2, when Armando Gaudin collaborated on a pass Crawford and fired the puck into the net. The Bruins then attacked wildly in an effort to force a deadlock, but the Wings blocked them.

THE ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

In a recent column dealing with the Canadian Legion I concluded by making the statement: "The Canadian Legion is growing in strength. It must also grow in prestige." This statement has unfortunately been misinterpreted by some, and to avoid any further misunderstandings it will be just as well to explain what I had in mind.

In the first place it was not I, as some seem to have thought, to suggest that the Legion is lacking in prestige today. What I intended to convey was that the Legion must never be satisfied to rest on its past laurels, nor on its present reputation, but must continue to strive for improvement. It would be fatal for the Legion to think that it could not be better than it is, do more than it has been, and do so, as it would be for an individual to be content to stand still.

The Legion is pledged to look after the interests of those who suffered in battle and the survivors of those who fell. In its desire to obtain justice for all it will naturally assume the role of champion of the "underdog." This title will tend to bring it continually before the public's attention when it is fighting to have some wrong done or some injustice removed. There will not be many occasions when the Legion will have an opportunity.

AIC President Is Honored For Work in Co-Op.

A presentation banquet and dinner, attended by about 30 persons, was given at the Corona hotel Saturday by members of the board of directors, Alberta Livestock Co-operative, in honor of its president, Hugh W. Allen, who has continued in that post since the inception of the co-operative in 1941.

MARKING acknowledgment of Mr. Allen's services in the growth of the ALC from small beginnings in 1941 to a foremost position in the province's livestock industry today, Lorne Proudfoot, on behalf of the 11-member board, presented a presentation of a handily executed illuminated address.

In making the presentation to Mr. Allen, Mr. Proudfoot commented: "I believe in Mr. Allen we have a man of good judgment; a man who came back from the recent meeting of meat packers in Montreal, he has listened to their deliberations and observed their difficulties in relation to our own—keeping in mind also the interests of the western producer and of how we can get a better price for our hog."

MR. PROUDFOOT noted that the president's service to the organization offered at a sacrifice to himself and that through his assistance the ALC had prospered as a result. He also mentioned the ALC's Federation of Agriculture and a board member of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and will do, a wonderful job for

Alberta Stand On Court Fees Explained Here

Implications in a front page story in another Edmonton newspaper that excess naturalization fees in Alberta were finding their way to wrong pockets were branded as misleading in a statement issued this morning by Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general for Alberta.

THE ARTICLE OMTS to mention that the minister says that regulations in relation to fees payable to provincial officials contain this provision—Provided however that if in any one calendar year the fees for naturalization are less than the cost of a court exceed $2,000, an allowance for clerical assistance may be made with the approval of the governor general in council out of such excess.

Extra clerical assistance was obviously required in those years when the number of applications for naturalization was high, the minister pointed out, and the extra work which was involved in handling these extra applications required the attention of provincial officials.

MR. MAYNARD reported that an application was made to the undersecretary of state in Ottawa for an allowance for clerical assistance amounting to the excess received should be granted. In July of that year it was received from the undersecretary stating that the question of allowance was under advisement and that the matter would be taken up with provincial officials sometime in September of that year.

This has never been done and the claim of the provincial government for any excess earned has not been dealt with in the Department of Finance in any year since. "It will therefore be seen," the attorney general stated, "that the matter is still in abeyance and cannot be said that the provincial government is improperly retaining money to which it is not entitled."

Unhappiness for Woman Who Steals Husband

Married Man, Who Divorced Wife and Married Another, Makes Life Miserable for Her With His Jealousy

DEAR MISS DIX: Five years ago I met and fell in love with a married man who divorced his wife and married me. However, we have been bitterly unhappy. He is cruel and abusive and is very jealous of me. I have tried to make a go of our marriage as I feel that as I look back on my life with him and three children I should endeavor to make something of my life. But how can I do this when I have a mark of sentiment or love left for him? I am only 25 years old. My husband is 45.

MISERABLE. ANSWER: No woman can build a house of happiness on the wreck of a sister woman's home and not find that a curse is upon it. No woman can expect to have children and not have to draw their resentment to keep from hearing their cry for their father.

Your Baby And Mine Why Grow Old?

EVERY MOTHER LOVES EVERY MOTHER has to have the courage to live up to her idea of what will make the best life for her children. Unless she does she is not a mother. It is her privilege to make the best life for her children. She C.E.B. writes: "We live in an average, middle-class neighborhood. I am of the opinion that children need playmates and that some of the time they should play alone and be with the family. The difficulty is that other children in our neighborhood go and come as they please. Sometimes they arrive before my daughter is in the morning, and they stay as long as they wish. They are not neglected but they have the privilege of going from house to house, even respecting meals or hours. This has gone on so long that my daughter, who is six, cannot settle down to play. She always wants to go to her playmates. If she goes out in the yard the children look over, and I cannot tell her to go. I have tried this situation without offending the parents.

JOSEPHINE LOMAN writes: "My girl has always been nervous and I want her to have a rest and feel better. She does not want to read when other children are playing in the yard."

McCoys Health Service

Practically every case of deafness not resulting from accident may be treated successfully by dietary measures. Of course there are some cases where through neglect the trouble has gone too far for diet to be of much assistance, but I find that there is generally some hope of hearing if the patient's diet has not as yet reached the advanced stage.

Complete deafness does not come on suddenly without warning as hearing is often a gradual loss and sense of hearing covering a period of several years before the patient becomes conscious of not hearing as well as others.

There are a few cases where the ear drum has been ruptured or some other portion of the hearing apparatus is damaged and there are also a few cases where the sense of hearing is interfered with by a retention of wax in the ear. These are the most common causes of deafness and the result of chronic catarrh of the middle ear which is called catarrh deafness. Perhaps 90 per cent of the cases are of this kind and the treatment is simple and effective.

An unusually severe cold in the head and throat may also cause deafness. It seems the deafness came on abruptly, which is seldom true, as the chronic state of the ear is the cause of the deafness. The cold has been developing for some time and the patient has been slowly becoming more and more deaf.

Local treatments by your physician, in removing ear wax and on the ear, may be of some assistance. I have proved helpful in many cases, but you must remember that the real cause of the deafness is the catarrh of the middle ear and the treatment must be directed to this.

In most cases the fruit juice will bring a quick relief from ear noises which may be present, and in some cases the hearing will improve within a reasonably short time. However, if the rapid relief has been obtained, the deafness has been extended over a period of years, as the structure of the ear may have become thickened from continual inflammation.

When the deafness is purely catarrhal, the patient should not only take the fruit juice but should leave out oils and fats for a considerable period of time. Even the use of oil may be of some recovery.

"In His Steps" Author is Dead
TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of the famous religious novel "In His Steps," died last night in hospital following a long illness. He would have been 80 years old next Tuesday.

Rev. Sheldon suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last Monday. The Topeka clergyman, who wrote a kind of Bible, the long-lost gospel except the Bible, never received a cent of royalties because of a faulty copyright.

THE BOOK SOLD more than 25,000,000 copies in 40 years and was translated into 16 languages. Rev. Sheldon also went to the top of the world in 1900.

The modern Oxford Bible is said to be the only book in the world which does not contain typographical errors.

CNR President Is the Recipient Of High Honor

POTSDAM, N.Y. Feb. 23.—Robert Charles Vaughan, of Montreal, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, was Sunday awarded an honorary degree as doctor of science in business administration at the 48th commencement of Clarkson College of Technology by Dr. John A. Ross, Jr., president of the college.

In presenting Mr. Vaughan for the degree, Dr. L. K. Silcott of Watrous, N.Y., vice-president and trustee of Clarkson, paid a glowing tribute to the Canadian National executive saying "While called to the exacting responsibilities of directing the far-flung activities for the Canadian National Railways, with its vast system of railways, airways, steamships, hotels, express, and telegraph operations included, it was the combination of administrative talent and discrimination in appraising each request for further progress that has made Robert Charles Vaughan so effective."

"He is held by these high qualities who have been privileged to work with him and know him intimately through the years not only as an able administrator, a thoroughly dependable Christian gentleman and scholar, but above all else, as one who, by his friendliness and wholesome objectives, can secure the cordial cooperation of his associates in striving for honest and worthy objectives."

MR. VAUGHAN was the recipient of one of the two honorary degrees awarded at the commencement exercises, the other going to William James Cunningham, of Boston, professor of transportation at Harvard University. Twelve degrees were awarded to members of the graduating class.

"He is held by these high qualities who have been privileged to work with him and know him intimately through the years not only as an able administrator, a thoroughly dependable Christian gentleman and scholar, but above all else, as one who, by his friendliness and wholesome objectives, can secure the cordial cooperation of his associates in striving for honest and worthy objectives."

ity of coming before the public to acclaim something which is accepted as right by everyone, or championing someone who is completely successful. There is never any need of this kind of action if they do. Those people tend to hush aside every request made by the Legion, every demand for redress of a wrong, a "Legion blow-off." They hold the opinion that the Legion merely wants to get something for nothing for veterans.

IT WAS MY INTENTION, therefore, to suggest, that in order to confound its critics, the Legion should go to special and unusual lengths to insure that it maintains the confidence of all. It is not enough that the Legion should be convinced it is right—it must conduct its battles in such a way that even those who at the present time are critical or suspicious of it should be convinced that it is right. That is what I mean by increasing its prestige.

It was for this reason that I suggested that the Legion should set up, in each branch, an impartial court—even to the point of including respected citizens who are not Legion members on that court—for the purpose of hearing complaints which its members may make to it. At the present time these complaints are carefully considered by Legion officials because any official action is taken. And I have yet to hear of a case where they sought for an unjust cause. Yet there are a number of people, some of them in important positions in this country, who are not aware of this.

THE LEGION has an important part to play in guarding the future of this country. Anything it can do to increase its prestige, and the confidence the public have in it, will enable it to perform that task with greater efficiency and effect. Legion members should always keep in mind that it is not what its members think of it that makes an organization great—it is what the public thinks of it—and the better opinion the public has of it, the better and bigger the job it can do.

Edmonton Philharmonic Society Wins Triumph in Fourth Concert

Playing the fourth in a series of five concerts this season, the Edmonton Philharmonic Society at the Empire theatre on Sunday was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. After Frutkin conducted the solo assignment in Grieg's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A Minor.

THE NET RESULT was a triple triumph, for the orchestra, Mr. Frutkin and Mr. Nisoff. To Mr. Frutkin goes a well-deserved tribute for his excellent leadership and expert preparation and presentation of the program.

There was a notable and welcome return to a standard of performance one now expects—and not uncommonly—from this organization. There had been a distinct falling-off in the January concert, but ground lost on that occasion was regained Sunday.

Some additions have been made to the personnel, and some players who the last time were present, but there was a more consistent standard of performance in the January concert, but ground lost on that occasion was regained Sunday.

British Columbia Jail Probe Urged

VANCOUVER, Feb. 23.—(CP)—

An "immediate official enquiry into the administration of the B.C. penitentiary during the past year" and immediate steps to implement the recommendations of the Royal Commission report on prison reform were urged Saturday by the CCF provincial executive meeting in Victoria, it was revealed in a statement released here last night.

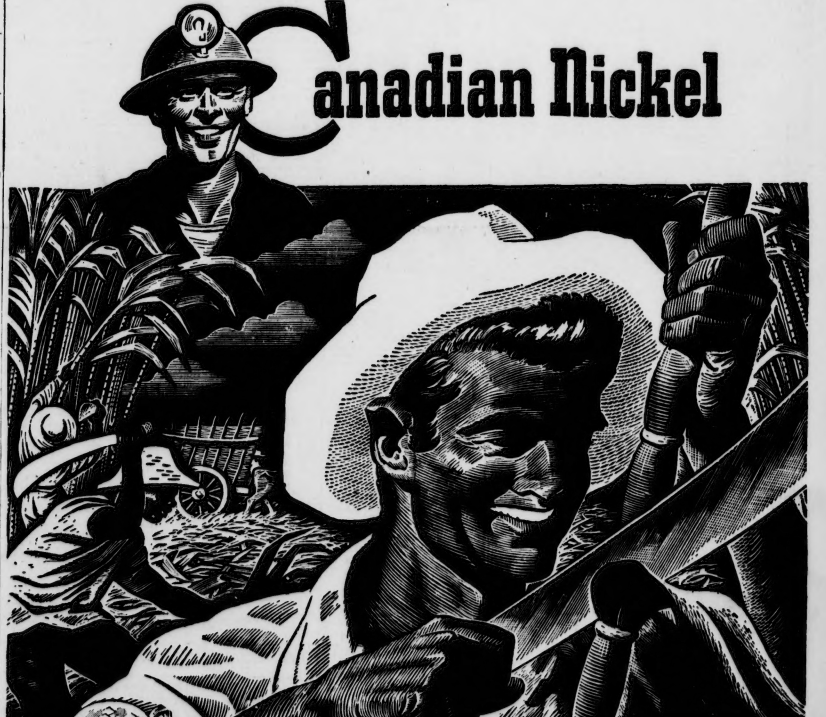

The statement said "The public is entitled to a franker official statement on recent disturbances."

Reports of Canadian news agencies claiming to supplement the recent statement of the Canadian government can only be construed as an attack on the Soviet Union, intended to undermine admiration for its splendid achievements in recent years.

"The CCF does not condone the actions of any Canadian citizen in giving or selling any confidential material of national importance to any other nation. It believes that any individual or organization found guilty after a fair trial should be punished as the law provides."

THOUSANDS of Canadians earn their living producing Nickel. Thousands of West Indians earn their living producing sugar. Only a small part of the sugar produced in the West Indies is consumed there.

Less than three per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is consumed in Canada. The rest is exported and the money received helps to pay for sugar and other products necessary to good-living in Canada.

The export of Canadian Nickel means jobs for the thousands of employees of the Canadian Nickel industry. It also means jobs for the other thousands of Canadians who produce the lumber, power, steel, explosives, machinery, equipment and supplies used by the Canadian Nickel industry.

Canada cannot keep on importing from other lands unless she exports Canadian goods.

By constantly seeking to expand the uses of Nickel at home and abroad, the Canadian Nickel industry brings additional benefits to Canada and Canadians.

City Officials Laud RCAF Plan For Bases Here

Commenting on the establishment of Edmonton as a number one military air base, Charles E. Gamm, chairman, Industrial Development Board, said Saturday: "Edmonton is now beginning to receive due recognition in respect of its strategic importance geographically."

"It is gratifying that both the Canadian army and the RCAF have recognized this fact by including Edmonton as a major centre in their reorganization of the Canadian services," he continued.

He said the decision would be of assistance to the board in its efforts of attracting industries to Edmonton.

C. D. Jacob, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, made this comment on the development: "It has been urged for some time that the vital reasons learned by the United States Air Force and the RCAF in the flying operations in northern Canada should not be lost, and that Edmonton should be a centre for continued military development."

He expressed pleasure on behalf of the chamber in the realization that Edmonton would now become a major air and military centre.

He urged that citizens see that Edmonton's industrial and commercial development be kept abreast with the importance and significance of its new position as a leading Canadian military and air base.

ALC President

the livestock producers of Alberta," Mr. Proudfoot concluded in presenting the address.

In receiving the honor, Mr. Allen stressed that rather than something personal he was receiving it more as a symbol of the cordial and friendly associations and spirit of co-operation that existed between members of the board and all co-operatives who had striven to make the ALC an important segment in the life of Alberta's livestock industry.

He paid tribute to several members of the board for their assistance in making his position as president as effective as possible in relation to the vitalities of the livestock industry from the beginning and especially within the past year.

MR. ALLEN REFERRED briefly to the problems now confronting western livestock production, chiefly to the west's decline in raising hogs for most provinces, but also to a continuing and increased demand in export markets for Canada's meat products he looked forward hopefully to agricultural advances that would again place the province in the not-too-distant future.

He drew comparisons with other sections of Canada, Mr. Allen said the west enjoyed advantages in the prevalence of farmer-co-operative organizations which had been responsible for bringing together people of mixed racial origin for their mutual benefit, but only in marketing but not in their social life.

According to the presentation, Mr. Allen said "It can't help but be appreciated by anyone who has been greeted by a token such as this that the work and thought which made it possible is a shining example of the good will and friendliness which exist in co-operation, and I thank each one of you."

FOLLOWING THE BANQUET, members and guests reassembled for an informal social hour at which several brief addresses were heard in tribute to Mr. Allen. Speakers included: R. E. Chown, Mr. Proudfoot, George E. Church, J. E. Brownlee, K. C. P. Priestly and Fred McDonald.

Chairman C. P. Hayes, who also addressed the meeting, expressed regret over the unavoidable absence of J. J. MacKellan through illness. Absent also were R. M. McCrimmon and Henry Stenroos who expressed their regrets through Mr. Hayes.

The session closed also to introduce a new member of the ALC board. He is Gordon R. Kier of Lamont, assistant director representing the Alberta Wheat Pool.

MR. HAROLD SUCCEEDS to his position R. H. Stenroos, president, who the board honored Friday with a gift of a silver pencil set on his retirement after many years as a director of the ALC.

A demonstration of skill in the art of magic was performed by Francis Belts, local magician, whose running commentary of humor and stage-hand turns kept the attention of the audience for more than half an hour.

Present at the function were: Messrs. McDonald, Chown, Proudfoot, Church, Priestly, Kier, Hayes, Harold and Brownlee, as well as C. D. Lane, R. L. Tomlinson, J. L. McMillan, George Winkler, J. M. Hillier and S. W. Sheppard. Special guests were: R. Russell Love, ed. Co-op. News; Claude Campbell, former general manager of the ALC; Rudolph Herzig, Fort Saskatchewan, UFA director; J. M. Woodruff, Chas. E. Gamm, Alberta Wheat Pool; M. H. Ward, Calgary, UFA director; J. L. McMillan, Edmonton, former ALC director; F. J. Patterson, provincial supervisor of co-operatives; J. L. Arden, manager, Ginn's hotel and members of the press and radio.

Saskatchewan visitors were: H. A. Croft, Regina, president of the Co-operative Life Insurance Company; and W. E. Long, Saskatoon, general manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Livestock Producers.

First Held in Winter

Jasper Avenue Parade Opens Edmonton's Winter Carnival

Thousands of Edmontonians Saturday afternoon jammed Jasper avenue to witness what is believed to be this city's first mid-winter parade. "The occasion was the opening of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce winter carnival, a week-long event which terminates at midnight next Saturday."

PARTICIPATING in the parade, which took more than ten minutes to pass in review, were 15 floats, representing various Edmonton organizations and other organizations, Canadian and American forces, cadet groups, military bands and "specialized" members of the junior chamber led by their president, Johnny McIntyre.

DURING THE COURSE of the parade, a borrowed railway "push car" was propelled along the street tracks on Jasper and by other means. On this transportation medium was the Jasper and optimistic sign "Alkaid to Edmonton or Bust."

The first float in the parade was sponsored by the City of Edmonton. It consisted of four large floats, symbolizing the "fourth motif" "Gateway to the North," with appropriate decorations, and scenic views of the city.

The United States Army base was provided a military "mascot," a craft capable of transport on land, water or snow. It carried a snow machine and was conveyed by a jeep which was driven along the parade route.

The Edmonton Jewellers' Association float was drawn by two of the Woodland Dairy prize horses. It was followed by a detachment of officials.

Providing stirring music for the parade was the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce band.

WETASKIWIN, Feb. 25.—Wetaskiwin Coltsmen swamped Red Deer Rangers 12-3 in the first of a two-game series between the two teams.

The winners of the series will meet the victors of the Edmonton-Cadomin series in a "hand-off" fixture.

Brooks playing a standout game, setting "Colonel's" first two late goals, while Tonally was the star of the final against the southern champion.

Record At Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. — (AP) — Chicago Black Hawks may be injury-debilitated and badly weakened, but there's no gloom in the accounting department. An all-time season record for attendance in the National Hockey League was written last night.

Last night's attendance of 17,659 fans for a 2-2 tie with New York Rangers lifted the season high to 37,500 with four home games left.

At the rate they've been jamming the stadium this season, total attendance should be between 440,000 and 450,000 when the club closes out its schedule.

Knockdown covered the 1½ miles in 1:30 3/4, three fifths behind the Derby record.

The two-city victory was worth $25,000 to Mrs. Elizabeth Arden Graham, owner of the Maine Chance Farm. Knockdown pulled stable was that of the winning stable.

Pilot paid $20,000.

THE RCAF SPONSORED a blue military truck, which gave prominence to a placard on which were the words "Join Now." On exhibition were various types of northern flying equipment.

The Edmonton Exhibition float played up Edmonton as a hockey centre. It was followed by a float sponsored by "Edmonton's Own Flyers." Following that was a float urging the citizenry at large to "Join in the carnival fun."

The Federation of Community Leagues float carried a score of laughing youngsters, each of whom held up a card for the various individual community leagues. One league, Highlands, entered a float on its own behalf, complete with pretty young lady members of that community. Floats by various sports groups, Edmonton Athletic club and the Maple Leaf Athletic club, brought the long parade to an end.

Some of the more outstanding floats in the parade included the "Pilot" exhibited by the Sundland Blount Company. It portrayed Walt Disney's famous "pup" seated nonchalantly on a toboggan. Another was the junior chamber's own float bearing the lion carnival game contestants, one of whom was seated on a large white throne.

Newspaper photos were taken of the parade by the junior chamber's film committee. These will be sent to the Associated Press Newsreels for general release, according to chamber officials.

According to the chief of the U.S. Forest Service, one-third of the area of the United States is forest or potential forest land.
